Megan Cole has appeared in over 100 leading roles in theatres from coast to coast and in recent years has also made TV guest-star appearances on “Seinfeld,” “ER,” “The Practice,” “Star Trek: TNG and DS9,” “Las Vegas,” “Judging Amy,” and a host of others. The recipient of two L.A. Drama Critics’ Circle Awards and three L.A. Drama-Logue Awards, she originated the leading role in Margaret Edson’s Pulitzer Prize-winning play WIT at the South Coast Repertory in Costa Mesa, CA in 1995. She now tours with “The Wisdom of WIT”, her solo version of the play.

Written by American playwright Margaret Edson, Wit is a one-act play that won the 1999 Pulitzer Prize for Drama. The play follows the final hours of Dr. Vivian Bearing’s life as she is dying of ovarian cancer. She reflects on her life through the intricacies of the English language, as she is a professor of English, and recounts her experiences with healthcare providers, including medical technicians, a doctor, and a nurse.
