Poems of Suffering and Healing

Fady Joudah, MD
Poet and internist

Poetry reading to be followed by an interview with Fritz Lanham, Freelance writer and editor

Wednesday, September 13th
12:00 – 1:00 PM
MSB 3.001

Fady Joudah is a poet and internist affiliated with Baylor St. Luke’s. Born in Austin to Palestinian refugee parents; grew up in Libya and Saudi Arabia. Worked in Africa for Doctors Without Borders. His first collection, The Earth in the Attic (2008), won the Yale Series of Younger Poets competition, the country’s most prestigious award for books of poetry. Published second collection, Alight, in 2013, and has published two fatranslations of works by contemporary Palestinian poets.