The UT Center of Excellence on Mood Disorders is currently recruiting patients for a new study for people suffering from Bipolar Disorder. It will consist of a research psychiatric diagnostic evaluation, computer based neuropsychological testing, and genetic testing. The study can be completed in two visits*. You may be eligible if:

- 18-65 years old
- Bipolar I or II
- No major medical conditions

If you are interested in participating or would like more information on this study, please call us at 713-486-2627.

You may be compensated for your time.

The risks and benefits of participation will be discussed with you.

*some participants may be asked to complete an MRI at a third visit
