PAST GRANT SUPPORT

Grant Writing Experience

Cullen Trust Foundation (PI: Tasciotti) 01/01/2014-12/31/2017

Houston Methodist Research Institute Annual Direct costs: $750,000

Project Goal: To mimic the body's healing function and repair damaged tissues, utilizing combinations of tissue-engineered constructs, nanoscale smart delivery systems, and patient-derived stem cells. By leveraging on our multidisciplinary strengths we will bridge life sciences with physics, medicine with mathematics, device engineering with molecular imaging, and nanotechnology with systems biology. This project aims at the creation of the Center for Regenerative Medicine, which perfectly embodies the spirit, vision and commitment of my laboratory to the development of unconventional technologies and solutions inspired by nature.

Role: Grant Co-Author & Key Contributor, In vivo Team Leader

W81XWH-13-SCI-IIRA (PI: Righetti)

10/01/2014-09/30/2017 3% effort

Department of Defense, Spinal Cord Injury Research

Annual Direct Costs: $131,370 Y1, $162,016 Y2

Assessment of Spinal Injuries Using Novel Ultrasound Techniques

$156,615 Y3

Project Goal: Develop new spinal 3D US imaging techniques to assess spinal injuries, fractures and abnormalities and monitor bone regeneration in vivo, Develop new spinal elastography techniques to assess the mechanical response of the soft tissue in proximity of the spine and at the soft tissue/bone interface in the presence of a SCI, spinal fracture or abnormality and during tissue healing and bone regeneration in vivo and Test and statistically analyze the performance of the developed spinal US imaging techniques (3D ultrasound and elastography) in the assessment of SCI in a small animal study in vivo and validate the results using MRI, CT and histopathology.
Role: Grant Co-Author & Key Contributor, In vivo Team Leader

W81XWHBAA141 (Co-PI: Tasciotti, Ferrari, Ihrig, Weiner, Shulz, Watts, Moreno, Righetti, Becker)

Dept of Defense, USAMRMC, Combat Casualty Care Research Program Budget: $6,000,000

Title: A GMP/GLP investigation of degradable polymeric shells for traumatic osteogenesis

Project Goal: To provide preclinical validation and toxicity data for repair of critical-sized lower extremity long bone defects using a biodegradable PEU polymer shell/collagen scaffold construct and internal/external fixation-free technique. The Combat Casualty Care Research Program (CCCRP) provides integrated capabilities for far- forward medical care to reduce the mortality and morbidity associated with major battlefield wounds and injuries from point of injury through discharge from the acute care hospital. A primary emphasis of the CCCRP is to identify and develop medical techniques and materiel (medical devices, drugs, and biologics) for early intervention in life-threatening battle injuries. Obviously there exists a large need for advanced techniques for long bone defects in the civilian community as well (traumatic, congenital, post-oncologic resection, etc.). Work from this project will provide precious data of our product's safety prior to human testing and hopefully eventual, device manufacturing for both military and public use.

Hobbies, Interests & Activities

I love the outdoors and watching or playing a variety of sports ranging from baseball, football, golf, softball, flyfishing, bird hunting, and motorcycle riding. I also enjoy watching any of my favorite Colorado sports teams, construction and home remodeling, movie watching, or just being anywhere with my wife and watching my children grow. I also am passionate about world missions and hope to someday use my surgical talents to serve the medical needs of communities abroad.
